SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

Program Overview

Product ID: 1464¹

Primary audience for the course is:

- Early career professionals, and employees without, or little formal knowledge of supply chain management, for whom knowing more about supply chain management would be beneficial.
- Middle management who are perhaps working in a narrow supply chain management area (e.g. buyers in purchasing departments, production planners, logistics analysts, etc.), but would benefit from the understanding of their role in the broader supply chain management context.

Why you should take this program:

- First of all, supply chain management has been increasingly recognized as a cornerstone of a company's success. It consists of multiple areas, such as customer service, operations, logistics, purchasing and sourcing, inventory management, planning, etc... and we see that the most successful companies, particularly in retail and distribution sector are the ones who are able to effectively align and coordinate these functions in one coherent unity. For companies to be able to do this they need employees with an integrative mindset, ones who understand how their actions impact other functions ,and vice a versa. Lower your staff turnover rates. This program will build awareness and understanding of fundamental principles of supply chain management and its effects on a firm's performance. It will increase an employee's understanding of their role in the wider supply chain management context.
- Improve their decision making from narrow functional outlook to a broader organizational and ultimately supply chain level.

The program consists of seven connected modules:

Module 1: Customer Service Module

Module 2: Logistics

Module 3: Supply Chain Planning

Module 4: Inventory Management

Module 5: Purchasing and Supply Management – 1 (Centered around category strategy development)

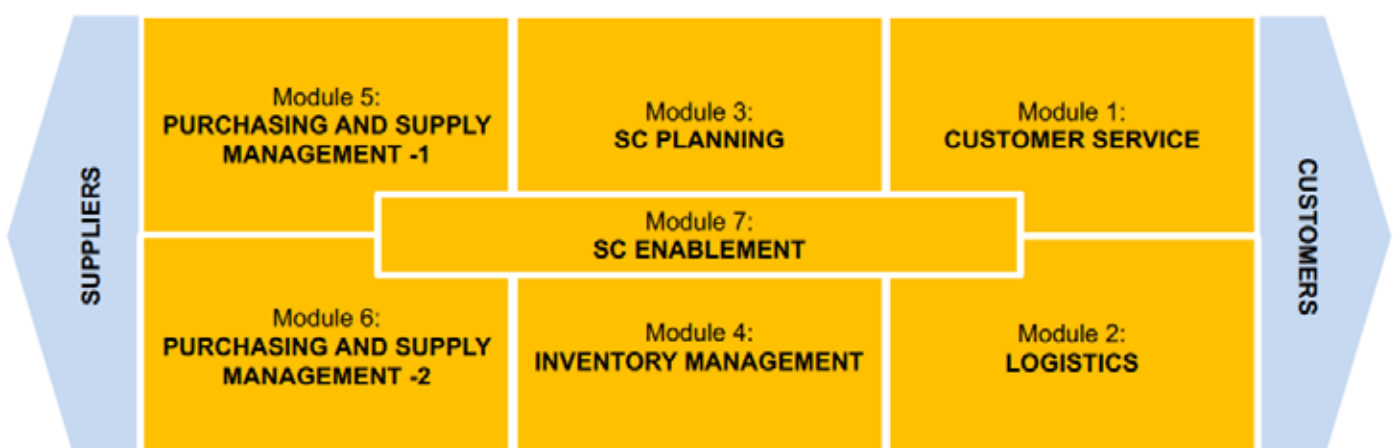

Module 6: Purchasing and Supply Management – 2 (Centered around supplier segmentation, evaluation and selection)

Module 7: Supply Chain Enablement
